Cold-Shooting MSU Cagers Drop 72-37 Tilt to Pokes

By BILL LARCOMBE and ART MATHISON

The MSU Grizzlies were colder than a north wind blowing from the Hell Gate as the Wyoming Cowboys romped to a 72-37 win at Laramie last night, thus avenging an earlier, 44-42 upset loss to the Silvertips.

Zip Rhoades, who played his best game of the road trip as hit six field goals and received the applause of 3,027 fans for his floor play, was the only MSU player to hit the hoop with any consistency. As a team, Montana connected on but 11 of 58 field attempts, an 18.9 shooting average. Wyoming, on the other hand, swished 20 of 57 shots from the field and 32 of 38 pitches from the charity stripe.

In the first half, Montana showed the same zone defense which earlier had plagued Denver at Colorado A&M, but 6'8" Dave Bradley and 6'7" Harry Jorgensen repeatedly hit from the outside to force the Tips into a man-to-man defense the second half.

And while the Pokes were dropping in points, they were controlling the backboards, where they garnered 49 rebounds to Montana's 37. Jorgensen cleared the boards 11 times during the contest, while MSU's Rhoades and Wyoming's Bradley captured eight.

Wyoming's heady playmaker,

5'9" Joe Capua, bucketed 18 points to lead individual scoring, 10 points coming from the free throw line.

Montana was in the ball game for just a few minutes in the first half as the Tips jumped to a 7-2 lead on set shots by Argenbright and Rhoades and free throws by Howard. Wyoming gained the lead at 10-9 on Capua's jump shot, following free throws by Dave Bradley and Capua and field goals by Holden and Howard. Harry Jorgensen swished a hook and two side heaves, between set shots by Pete Fowler and Ed Argenbright, to run the 'Poke margin to 18-11.

The Grizzlies closed the gap to 20-17 as Rhoades artfully maneuvered for two layins and Howard canned a pair of charity tosses. But from that point on it was Cowboy score after score as the lanky Wyoming crew pushed to a 36-19 halftime lead.

Johnson Takes Merritt Award; Jumbolaya Cops Team Trophy

Howard Johnson, 150-pound SAE slugger, was presented the Merritt Memorial outstanding boxer award last night as a climax to the M club boxing festival which saw Jumbolaya emerge with the team trophy for the second consecutive year.

Johnson's unanimous decision over Jumbolaya's Bill Kuni kept the fans howling from the opening gong. Kuni spotted his opponent 10 pounds and filled the air with leather, only to lose to Johnson's storming attack.

Both fighters were exhausted at the close of the free-swinging battle. The winner combatted Kuni's aggressive swinging with finesse and sharp jabs while recording one knock-down.

Jumbolaya fighters won four bouts in repeating their victory of last year. Sigma Nu and Phi Delta Theta fist-swingers each won two bouts.

Jim Rapp and Terry McDonald, diminutive Elks Boy's club fighters, traded brisk punches in struggling to a three-round draw to open the evening's festivities.

Aggressive Bryan Smith stalked

Allen Somers about the ring to capture a split decision in the second bout. Small in stature, the young pugilists made up in spirit what they lacked in size.

Jerry Levenseller, Jumbolaya, utilized a long left and a fast moving attack to defeat Roger Pearlsall, PDT, in the third bout of the evening. Setting a fast pace from the start, both fighters tired in the second round, recovered to finish strong.

Ken Calvin, SN, became the first fraternity winner by pouncing John Fraser, PDT, with a wicked left in the fourth bout to cop a unanimous decision. Fraser tired in the final round after failing to penetrate the defense of the longer armed Sigma Nu. Calvin set the crowd howling with a herky-jerky defense from which he recoiled to surprise Fraser.

Missoula high school fighter Chuck Gibson came out pounding to down his lighter opponent Ed Palmer, PDT, in the first round and capture a three-round unanimous decision in the fifth fracas. Palmer couldn't overcome the 14-pound weight advantage and longer reach of his younger opponent. Gibson stalked and slugged all the way.

Tall Ken Travis, Jumbolaya, downed stalky John Bansch, PDT, in each of the first two rounds with swooping hooks enroute to a TKO in 1:30 of the third round. Bansch started with flurries of punches bringing onlookers up in excitement. Travis took advantage of openings to crash in for decisive blows. A hard smash to the jaw was the winning punch, stunning Bansch but not downing him.

Smooth punching Dick Stahl, PDT, started swinging with the opening gong to win a unanimous decision in the seventh fight over Mike Lambe, ATO, after the loser traded punch for punch until the end. Nose-bleeding the last two rounds, Lambe lost out in the rapid exchange of punches in one of the most applauded fights of the evening.

Lightweights Gary LaDeau and Herb Meagher, Elks club fighters, climaxed a slow first two rounds with a free-swinging third to end the bout in a draw.

Shorter and lighter Al Bradshaw, Jumbolaya, bloodied Bill Sanders' nose in the second round and stayed inside his opponent's guard to win a unanimous decision in the ninth fray. Making his short choppy blows count, Bradshaw kept one jump ahead of his more powerful opponent in winning. Sanders fought for South hall.

Dave Penwell, Jumbolaya, poked his way to a TKO over Ron Broker, PDT, in 1:10 of the final round of bout eleven. Penwell downed his taller opponent with powerful jabs spinning him around with punches in the corner of the ring.

M club fight veteran Bill Kaiser, SN, utilized the old one-two in the semi-windup to capture a unanimous decision over hard-hitting Pat Harbine. Following left jabs with right hooks Kaiser held off the smashes of Harbine, fighting his first fight in the ring, to emerge victorious.

Stocky Willie McGovern overcame Bob Bedey's five-pound weight advantage with uppercuts delivered in close infighting to gain a unanimous decision in the final bout of the evening. McGovern's deft footwork prevented Bedey's wild swings from landing while he crowded his heavier opponent into the corners with a vicious attack.

Miles Shooting Brings Action By SS Board

Final decisions on action regarding four University students with Robert C. Miles, Missoula, when he was shot Jan. 29, were made by the Dean of Students office Friday after recommendations by Social Standards committee Thursday night.

Miles was shot through the chest by Mrs. Gordon Boyce, 236 Livingston, when he entered the back door of the Boyce home after he and four other students had been asked to leave.

Wallace Mading, Missoula, and Douglas Wilson, Los Gatos, Calif., two of the students involved, were at the Social Standards meeting Thursday. Mading will be permitted to withdraw rather than being suspended from the University for the rest of winter quarter. He may apply for readmission spring quarter.

Wilson will be suspended immediately and will be allowed to re-apply for admission autumn quarter, 1955.

Terence Hurley, Chicago, and Pete Muri, Rosebud, were placed on social probation for the rest of the year.

No action was taken concerning Miles. His case will be reviewed later. He was released from the hospital Feb. 10.

The committee's recommendations to Dean of Students H. J. Wunderlich went into his final decision in every case except that of Hurley and Muri. Social Standards recommended that the two be warned of the gravity of future misconduct, and that they be urged to seek counseling help. Wunderlich placed them on social probation for the rest of the year.

SX Sweetheart . . .

Dan Zenk, Tampico, is shown presenting Lynn McCaffery, Butte, with a jeweled Sigma Chi pin, after she was elected as the 1955 Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Saturday night, at the Florenee hotel, Miss McCaffery was the candidate from the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Directly behind the new Sweetheart is Mary Mae Feely, Needles, Calif. Miss Feely, Joan Griffin, Havre, Cleo Ceserani, Butte, and Barbara Eastlick, Molt, received Sigma Chi purses as finalists. Sallie Hollecker, Great Falls, is retiring sweetheart.

'Crime and Punishment' to Open At Simpkins with Special Music

"Crime and Punishment," with a cast of 49, special music and sound effects, and original lighting effects for a dream sequence opens tonight at 8:15 in Simpkins Little theater.

A murder mystery with a new twist, "Crime and Punishment" stars Bill Nye, Missoula, as Raskilnikoff, a student living in the slums of St. Petersburg in the 1860's.

It's a different kind of murder mystery because the audience knows almost from the beginning who the murderer is. The element of suspense comes from finding out whether or not he is caught.

Raskilnikoff commits a double murder to prove that superior persons need not be governed by the laws which restrict other people. If it were not for his overpowering drive to find redemption through confession he would have committed the perfect crime.

Special lighting effects have been devised to create the proper mood for a dream sequence added to the adaptation by Director Abe Wollock.

Don Hardisty, Butte, has composed special music for the play, and special musical effects have been arranged by Don Stagg, Butte.

General admission for the third nonprofessional production of "Crime and Punishment" in this country is $1.20. Admission for students with activity cards is 25 cents.

An added feature of "Crime and Punishment" will be costumes fashioned after those used during the original Broadway production. Plates of the original costumes were used by Grace Martell in executing the costumes for the MSU production.

A special treat for MSU first nighters will be a coffee hour following the play. Members of the cast will be present and the audience will have a chance to meet the stars and cast of "Crime and Punishment."

The Bad and the Beautiful . . .

The murdering Raskilnikoff, portrayed by Bill Nye, Missoula, introduces Sonia, Jeanne Kostelic, Missoula, to his mother, Whitney Hines, Billings, in a scene from "Crime and Punishment," opening tonight at 8:15 p.m. in Simpkins Little theater.

A Cornbelt Prospect?

Ed. note: This editorial does not reflect a stand being taken by the Kaimin, but is a personal opinion of one of the Associate editors. None of the applicants for coaching positions have been eliminated yet because applications are still coming in, according to Prof. E. C. Lory, chairman of the faculty athletic committee. The Kaimin invites student opinion on the matter of who and what type of men should be hired for MSU coaching positions.

Tomorrow or next month—the date makes little difference. When athletic committee makes its final recommendations to President McFarland for men to fill two vacant coaching posts, some of the fans will howl. It's that way in athletics, even in coaching—some win, some lose.

A Tough Task

Screening about 60 applicants for head football and basketball jobs is a tough and thankless task for the members of the athletic committee: Athletic Director George Dahlberg, Prof. Earl Lory, Prof. Charles Hertler, Prof. O. F. Rydell, Prof. John Stewart, and two students, Paul Weingart, Missoula, and Jack Peterson, Butte.

It is a tough task for this committee because the men they select will have to produce. Like an iceberg, there is more to this problem than shows above the surface. John Mooney, Salt Lake Tribune sports columnist, last week observed, "More and more it's apparent that the Skyline conference teams have lost more than they gained in bringing New Mexico and Montana into the fold... Utah fans won't turn out to see New Mexico or Montana play..." Mooney thinks Montana may be on its way out of the Skyline.

Success, Fans, Athletics

Now if it is fans we need, there is an old saying that nothing breeds success like success. And if we can find a man to field a winning team in football we will get both the fans and the outstanding state athletes who have been leaving Montana for sunnier climes.

Beyond a doubt there is no qualified "Montana man for a Montana job." Since Montana hasn't the money to pick up an already famous coach, let's hope the athletic committee turns out to the next best field—the Midwestern smaller colleges. Montana can not come up with an Ev Shelton or Jack Gardner readymade but we might find a prospective John Roning, Phil Dickens, or Bob Blackburn.

From the Midwest

Bob Jauron, now at Saint Joseph's college, in Collegeville, Ind., may be the man we want. His coaching record, including a few years at Miles City, is almost unmatched.

Some may think Jauron unacceptable to the University but no one knows his past mistakes better than Bob Jauron and he wouldn't be coaching in a Catholic school if his conduct was not sound in every way.

Jauron taught football fundamentals to the two Lairds, Lucas, Husband, and Heath. They turned out all right, didn't they?—K.F.

Tips Drop Tilts to Rams, Pioneers, Officials

By BILL LARCOMBE

It took the Denver Pioneers 22 minutes and 25 seconds to overcome a brilliant individual performance by Montana's Ed Argenbright and hand the MSU Grizzlies a 74-68 Skyline conference defeat in a game finally decided at the free-throw line in Denver Friday night.

Argenbright was flawless as he scored Montana's first 14 points in a little over 13 minutes. Two free throws, a pair of driving layups and two more free throws accounted for his first eight points. Argenbright then connected on a long one-hander, a jump shot and another layup to put the Grizzlies ahead, 14-12. Before the end of the first half, Argenbright scored three more field goals and a pair of free throws, for a total of 22 points.

The Grizzlies surprised the Pioneers with a zone defense in the first half and held Denver's 6'7" center, Dick Brott, to three field goals as Montana held a 39-37 lead at intermission.

The Pioneers trailed Montana until captain Glen Buse hit a one-hander with about 17 minutes remaining in the contest, and increased their lead to eight points with a minute and one-half remaining to set the stage for a Grizzly rally. With Ed Fine scoring a layup and Argenbright a jump, the Pioneer lead was cut to four points with 55 seconds to play.

GRIZZLIES 48, RAMS 54

The Colorado A&M Rams were quick to take advantage of a hot-shooting streak, an officiating fiasco, and a six and three-quarter minute stall to edge the MSU Silvertips, 54-48, at Ft. Collins Saturday night.

The Rams hit 60 per cent of their shots in the first nine and one-half minutes of the second half to wipe out a 35-20 Grizzly halftime lead and go ahead, 44-42, on a pair of free throws by Ron Caylor with eight minutes to play.

At that point Montana took the ball, missed a shot and then watched the Rams go into their stall.

With four and one-half minutes remaining Coach Jiggs Dahlberg signaled the Grizzlies into action and Montana got the ball once again when the Aggies missed a free throw, only to lose it on a miscue. That was the game, as the officials "tossed the book" at

Cubs Stop Lights, Great Falls College In 4-Game Series

By DALE BURK

The Montana State University Cubs scored a clean sweep in their northern trip last week end, winning four contests in as many days. Wednesday and Thursday the Cubs defeated the Great Falls College Crusaders 69-61 and 70-56 in Great Falls. The Cubs followed with victories over the Northern Montana College Lights in Havre on Friday and Saturday by 69-54 and 85-69, respectively.

Six-foot six-inch Russell Sheriff led the Grizzly yearlings to the victories in Great Falls, scoring 30 points in the first game, and hitting 18 points in the second. Center Carl Guardipee led the Crusaders the first night with 18 while forward Dean Smith and guard Dick Naughton were high in the second contest with 13 each.

The Cubs came from behind in both contests to win. The yearlings trailed by 17 points at one point in the second half of the first game and were behind by 12 midway through the final half of the second game. Strong rallies won for the Cubs as they employed a full-court press against Coach Joe Kelly's cagers.

Friday night in Havre the Cubs could hit only 27.3 per cent of their field goal attempts, but made 72.5 per cent of their free throws as they marched to a decisive victory. Sheriff again led the Cubs, scoring 18 points. He was closely followed by forward Norm Kampschorr with 15 and guard Hal Erickson with 12. Tom Peck, Northern guard, was high for the Lights with 15 points, all scored in the first half. The Cubs led at halftime, 42-30.

In the Saturday fray the Cubs displayed a beautiful defense, holding the Lights scoreless while they scored 17 straight points in the opening minutes. The Cubs then coasted to an easy victory over the Northern team. Guard Wayne Davies connected for 10 field goals to lead the Cub scoring with 20 points. Tom Peck, again led the Lights, scoring 19 points.

Garlington to Talk On Clinical Work

Dr. Warren K. Garlington, Psi Chi faculty advisor, will speak on "The Profession of Clinical Psychology" at the club's monthly meeting in LA 306 at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Garlington is a clinical psychologist and assistant professor of psychology and philosophy.

Dr. Garlington's talk is the second in a series. Last month Dr. Frank M. du Mas talked on "The Profession of Industrial Psychology."

The public is invited.

'bout the Size of It

Miss Mary M. Condon, state superintendent of public instruction, will address the Student Christian association tonight at 7:30, LA 104.

Miss Condon will speak on how Montana schools will be financed, according to Gil Bremicker, Berwyn, Ill., president.

State aid will always be needed to equalize the foundation program, according to Miss Condon. Everyone is invited to attend.

Dr. C. Rulon Jeppesen and Dr. Mark Jakobson of the physics department will speak on "The Contribution of Physics to the Cold War Now and in the Years to Come" today at 4 p.m. in LA 104.

Cubs Travel North For Bulldog Clash

A basketball game between the MSU Cubs and the Gonzaga Bulldogs is scheduled for tomorrow night at 8 in the Polson high school gym, according to Homer G. Murphy of the Flathead Courier.

The game will be sponsored by the Salish Shrine club, and all proceeds will go to the Spokane Shrine hospital for crippled children.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young specialist in community relations makes friends in 101 plant cities

General Electric now has 131 plants in 101 cities, and one problem is common to all: How can the company show people in every community that it is a good neighbor?

This responsibility is shared by many and stimulated by 32-year-old John T. McCarty. His job: Consultant, Program Services in Plant Community Relations.

McCarty's work is varied, exciting

McCarty's assignment is to help each of the General Electric plants tell its neighbors what it is doing, what it hopes to do, and how it fits into the community.

He must be ready to travel to 26 states. He prepares community-relations manuals for use in all 101 plant cities. He supervises surveys of community sentiment, and tests the local effects of the company's advertising. And he helps plant management maintain friendly contacts with civic, religious, educational and other community leaders.

23,000 college graduates at General Electric

This is a sensitive and important job. McCarty was readied for it in a careful step-by-step program of development. Like McCarty, each of the 23,000 college-graduate employees is given his chance to grow, to find the work he does best, and to realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits — the individual, the company, and the country.

JOHN McCARTY joined G. E.'s Advertising Department as a copywriter after army service and graduation from U. of Michigan in 1947. He has held his present job since June 1952.
